EXAMINATION PRIVATE

THAW LUNACY COMMISSION CONDUCTS HEARINGS BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

LIMITS SCOPE OF INQUIRY

COMMISSION WILL ONLY DECIDE IF HE UNDERSTANDS NATURE OF PROCEEDINGS.

New York, March 29.—Harry K. Thaw for two hours submitted himself to a running fire of questions from the three men appointed by Justice Fitzgerald as a commission in lunacy to determine his present state of mind. The examination was conducted behind closed doors and when an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock Saturday morning, no one connected with the hearing before the commissioners would discuss the details of the inquiry. Thaw went willingly and confidently before his judges, and when the two hours' secret session was concluded his attorneys appeared with smiling faces and declared they were more than satisfied with the course of the proceedings. District Attorney Jerome hurried away from the criminal courts building, declining absolutely to say one word about the commission's work.

The most important feature of the day's proceedings was the decision of the commission to limit the scope of its inquiry to the exact language of the statute—to determine solely the question as to whether or not Harry Thaw is able today to understand the nature of the court proceedings against him and is able to advise his counsel in a rational manner.

District Attorney Jerome announced to the members of the commission that all of the legal experts he had employed in the case had advised him that Thaw is suffering from a typical case of paranoia—a disease of the mind in which the recoveries are limited to two or three per cent. He offered to adduce testimony to support this statement, but the commission waved it aside, saying that the purpose of the inquiry was a very simple one and had to do with any classification of mental diseases, but with the prisoner's present state of mind as judged by laymen.

Confronted by His Own Position.

In laying down this decision, the commission confronted the district attorney with the very position he has maintained in putting Thaw on trial for his life. Mr. Jerome contends that Thaw was suffering from paranoia on the night of June 25, last, when he shot and killed Stanford White, but he added that paranoiacs often have knowledge of what they are doing and Thaw knew the nature and quality of his act in killing White and knew that the act was wrong. Thus while medical experts may determine today that Thaw is still suffering from paranoia, the question to which the lunacy commission has decided to confine itself deals solely with Thaw's knowledge as to the proceedings against him and his ability to advise his lawyers.

The commission got under way with a rush and plunged at once into the personal examination of the defendant. District Attorney Jerome protested at first that he was not able to proceed, saying he would like to have his medical advisers present during Thaw's examination. He finally stated he would have no objection to the examination being forward providing he was permitted to reserve his cross-examination. The commission forthwith settled the matter of the presence of experts by excluding them from the room along with every one else, except the defendant and his counsel, the district attorney and Assistant District Attorney Garvin. As to the cross-examination by the district attorney the commission said the matter would be taken up when it was reached.

Answered Questions Calmly.

It is stated that during most of the two hours Thaw was before the commission the notes and letters which he has written to his counsel since the trial began were under consideration. To put Thaw thoroughly at ease, the commissioners addressed their questions to him in a conversational tone, and in a casual manner, as though he were in conference with them, asked him from time to time to explain incidents in the trial which had called forth certain of the letters placed before the commission by Thaw's attorneys. It was said that Thaw answered the questions calmly and went into lengthy explanations of some of the notes he had addressed to Mr. Delmas while his trial was in progress. These notes and letters were made a part of the affidavit filed by Mr. Delmas with Justice Fitzgerald when Thaw's counsel were opposing the appointment of a commission.

Thaw's examination was not concluded and he will appear again before the commission when it meets Saturday morning. The Saturday session also will be held behind closed doors.

The commission has not determined whether or not a physical examination of the defendant would be necessary. There was an anticipation, however, that the men who are to report as to Thaw's condition would content themselves with an observation of him during his mental examination.

One of the members of the commission is a physician and an expert in mental diseases, Dr. Leopold Putzel. If the commission should decide that a physical examination is essential, Dr. Putzel probably will make it. The commission may or may not allow the experts for the state and for the defense to be present at such a time.

The commission began its general inquiry with an open session, called to order in the room where the Thaw trial has been in progress since Jan. 23.

Hardly had the commission seated themselves when Thaw appeared. He was directed to a chair within the inner counsel rail and sat directly beneath the eyes of the men whose decision as to his present mental capacity is of such vital import to him. Thaw appeared to be in excellent spirits and sat unflinchingly under the steady gaze they turned upon him. In the big courtroom there were only the newspaper reporters and three of the prisoner's family—his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, who has never missed an opportunity to be near him since he was placed on trial, and his two brothers, Edward and Josiah Thaw. Mrs. Thaw sat between the brothers.

Wanted Hearing in Private.

After the session had been formally opened by the reading of the court's order, Clifford W. Hartridge, acting as counsel for Thaw, arose and stated to the commission that his client was ready at any time to submit to such examination as the commission desired. His only request was that the hearing should be private.

"Being a prisoner on trial for his life," said Mr. Hartridge, "he feels he should be protected as far as possible in this matter."

Chairman McClure then announced that whatever examination of Thaw the commission might decide upon would be held behind closed doors.

District Attorney Jerome protested. He said he would like to have his medical advisers present. He had called the court's attention to Thaw's mental state upon reports submitted to him by the alienists and he felt their presence was essential.

The commission decided to proceed at once with Thaw's mental examination and the courtroom was cleared. Once during the two hours which followed, District Attorney Jerome came outside. He was plying with questions as to how the examination was progressing, but would make no direct reply. His absence was taken to indicate that the commissioners were conducting their own examination according to plans previously agreed upon among themselves.

Thaw's attorneys, while they would not discuss the proceedings before the commission, pointed with a show of enthusiasm to the duration of the test as an indication of how well their client had withstood the commission's interrogations.

OVER A SCORE KILLED

DISASTROUS WRECK OCCURS ON THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC AT COLTON, CAL.

ONE HUNDRED PEOPLE HURT

LIST OF FATALITIES WILL BE INCREASED, AS MANY OF THE INJURED WILL DIE.

Colton, Cal., March 29.—A disastrous wreck on the Southern Pacific occurred one and one-half miles east of this town when westbound train No. 9 from New Orleans for San Francisco ran into an open switch while going at the rate of forty miles an hour and ten of the fourteen coaches were derailed. Twenty-six people are known to have been killed and the list will total much higher than this number. The injured number about 100, many of whom will die.

The wrecked coaches were hurled in every direction. Four of them were smashed into splinters. Most of the dead were Italians from New York and New Orleans. They occupied the smoker and day coach.

The dead were terribly mangled. Eighteen have been taken to Colton and eight additional bodies can be seen underneath one of the overturned and demolished cars. This car could not be raised until a derrick was brought from Los Angeles, sixty miles away.

The injured were carried to this city in vehicles of all sorts and the Colton hospital was quickly filled to its capacity. Many were then taken to the Presbyterian church and to private residences in the vicinity.

But two Americans are known to have been killed, although several of those among the injured will undoubtedly die within the next few hours.

George L. Sharp of Muncie, Ind., was instantly killed. The baggage-man of the train, whose name had not been learned, was also killed.

Engineer Worthington and Fireman Crebb both jumped, but failed to get clear and were caught in the wreckage. They were both terribly burned and scalded. John Golden, the conductor, was in the Pullman section of the train and escaped injury.

Pullman Passengers Escape.

Out of about eighty Pullman passengers there were but two who sustained serious injury. The three Pullman coaches and the diner, which were on the rear of the train, did not leave the track. The occupants of these cars were practically unharmed. The Florence Roberts Theatrical company occupied one coach, which was hurled from the track and both ends of it crushed in by impact against the others. But two members of Miss Roberts' company out of a total of twenty-two people were injured. The escape from death of the occupants of this car was remarkable, considering the manner in which the coach was splintered and torn to pieces. The people were hurled from one end of the car to the other.

There are three tracks where the accident occurred, which is in the open country. The people of Colton were first to be notified of the catastrophe. Hundreds of people hurried to the wreck. Physicians and nurses were brought from San Bernardino and Colton and ministered to the injured.

The derailment of the train was caused by the crew of a switch engine leaving a switch open at this point. It is said that the engine passed through the switch a few minutes before the Overland appeared. A switchman named Morrison was in the yard. After the switch engine had passed onto another track the engineer asked the fireman if he had re-brown the switch. The fireman replied that he had neglected to do so, and the engineer whistled frantically for Morrison to close it. The signal was not given in time, as Morrison did not reach the switch before the Overland had plunged through and been derailed.

Was Trying to Make Up Time.

The train was nearly twelve hours behind time. At the time of the disaster it was running at a high rate of speed in an attempt to make up time. There was absolutely no warning of the impending catastrophe. The engineer saw the signal of the open switch when but a few rods distant from it, and had no time to sound even a whistle of warning, much less to reverse the throttle or set the brakes. He called to his fireman to jump, and they both leaped wildly from opposite sides of the engine. The engine left the track, turned over on its side, and plowed a great distance along the right of way.

The broken wreckage of the day coaches and smoker, filled with the bodies of the dead and injured, were piled all over it. Helpless passen-mans and the roadside was converted into a temporary hospital. Several of those taken from the wreckage expired before conveyances arrived. It was half an hour before any medical aid could be secured. The three forward cars were completely telescoped and hurled to one side. The helpless passengers were torn and cut to pieces. Death came to a score of them instantly. Many were dismembered and impaled upon pieces of the wrecked cars.

The Southern Pacific headquarters in Los Angeles was notified immediately after the wreck, but it was some time before the relief train left for Colton. In the meantime assistance had come from San Bernardino and Riverside, a few miles away.

LAST SERVICE OF WEEK

Last of Passion Week Services at Methodist Episcopal Church Tonight—Students Audience Last Night

It was the largest audience of the week that listened last night to the Rev. Chas. Fox Davis as he traced the footsteps and doings of the Galilean and His small band of disciples during "His Fifth Day of His Last Week" from his home in Bethany to Gethsemane where he was arrested by the cohort of Roman soldiers directed there by Judas, and the lecture was deeply impressive and full of dramatic and spiritual interest. Among many things contained in the lectures which appeal to the listeners and make them of unusual interest have been the facts given relative to Jewish history, prophecy, ceremonialism, topography, city life in Jerusalem, descriptive accounts of the great temple and Jewish life generally. Such minute details are not generally given by the average clergyman during his Sabbath sermons for lack of time. Tonight's outline will be as follows: The bound Christ—Led to the house of Annas—Then to Caiaphas—The disciples rally—Peter around the fire—Denies the Christ—The crowd gathered in Caiaphas' palace curiously glare into the face of the Christ—Christ is charged with blasphemy—The Sanhedrists and Jewish law—Early morning and the Sanhedrists again—Hand Christ over as a malefactor to Pilate—Political charges against the Galilean—He disturbeth the people!—The dream of Pilate's wife—Pilate questioning Christ—Judas changes in heart and mind—The potter's field—Popular clamor against the Christ—The Scourged Christ—On the road to Calvary—The crucifixion—His last utterances—Darkness—"It is finished!" and "The crucifragium."

WILL NOT ARBITRATE

REPRESENTATIVES OF MEN EMPLOYED ON WESTERN RAILROADS SO DECIDE.

ADMIT SITUATION IS GRAVE

RAILROAD MANAGERS NOT SO

HOPEFUL OF PEACEFUL SOLUTION OF PROBLEM.

Chicago, March 29.—The controversy over a wage scale between the general managers of the Western railroads and their employees in the train service cannot be arbitrated and the only way in which a strike can be averted is for the officials of the roads to make terms with the men.

This is the ultimatum issued by the representatives of the two unions involved in the difficulty after a meeting had been held to consider the action of the railroads in asking the federal government to intervene and endeavor to bring about a settlement by mediation, along the lines provided by the Erdmann act. The movement by the general managers to have the matter adjusted by arbitration was considered at considerable length by the union representatives, but the proposition was finally rejected and a resolution passed refusing to arbitrate the wage scale question with anybody.

The general managers Thursday night for the first time admitted that the situation was grave. The crisis was intensified by the fact that no compromise had been effected with the representatives of the 50,000 locomotive firemen who are here negotiating for higher wages and an eight-hour day. Another conference was held between the general managers' association and a committee representing the firemen but nothing by way of a settlement was accomplished.

Secretary Slason Thompson of the general managers' association said:

"We are waiting to see what the government will do. We do not expect to hear directly in answer to our request that the whole difficulty should be arbitrated along the lines suggested by the Erdmann act, but we believe that when the labor leaders involved in the troubles receive word from Washington that the government has been asked to take a hand in the matter, that the representatives of the union will look at the matter in a different light and will be willing to submit the question to arbitration. We are not looking for trouble, but we have made all the concessions that we can afford to make under the present conditions and the sooner the men become reconciled to this the better it will be for every one concerned."

GOING TO CHICAGO.

Chairman Knapp and Commissioner Neill Will Try to Settle Trouble.

Washington, March 29.—Chairman Marvin A. Knapp of the interstate commerce commission and Charles P. Neill, commissioner of labor, will leave here today for Chicago, where they will hold a conference with representatives of conductors and trainmen and officials of Western railroads entering Chicago in regard to the dispute over the question of wages, which threatens to result in a disastrous strike unless a satisfactory adjustment is effected. Chairman Knapp said that the visit of himself and Mr. Neill will be simply in the direction of mediation and conciliation.

"It therefore becomes our duty under the law," said Chairman Knapp, "to put ourselves in communication with the parties and endeavor to bring about a settlement. If we fail in that effort then it is our duty to endeavor to induce the parties to enter into an arbitration."

JENNIE BURCH INSANE.

Young Girl Who Poisoned Baby Winslip Goes to Asylum.

Carmel, N. Y., March 29.—Jennie Burch goes to Matteawan. The jury which since Monday had been trying the young girl for the poisoning of Baby Wilbur Winslip returned a verdict of not guilty, by reason of insanity, and Justice Miller at once ordered her committed to the asylum for the criminal insane.

The verdict came to the fifteen-year-old girl as she sat alone in the courtroom and she broke down and wept bitterly. But after she had dried her tears, Mrs. Herbert Winslip, the mother of the baby to whom Jennie gave the poisoned peach, went to her to say good-bye. In spite of her grief over her baby's death, Mrs. Winslip could not forget the girl she had reared, and tried to cheer her. She clasped the girl in her arms and kissed her and told her that she freely forgave her.

Herbert Winslip, the father of the poisoned baby, also told Jennie that he had forgiven her and promised that Roscoe, the older child, should visit her at Matteawan.

Big Bomb Falls to Explode.

St. Petersburg, March 29.—While Rear Admiral Greve, commandant of the port, was inspecting the slip in which the cruiser Bayan is being constructed, a bomb, weighing five pounds, was hurled at him. The missile fell in the snow within two feet of the admiral, but did not explode. The would-be assassin escaped.

CLEAN UP BRIBERY DEALS.

Grand Jury Will Then Investigate Other Felonies.

San Francisco, March 29.—No indictments were returned Thursday for graft or bribery by the grand jury and only six witnesses were examined. When questioned at the close of the grand jury session as to testimony adduced, Assistant District Attorney Heney said that subpoenas to appear before the grand jury on Saturday were served on officials of the Western bank and the United States National bank of this city. "We hope," he said, "to clean up both the Pacific States and Home bribery deals on Saturday and to turn to the investigation of other felonies next week."

Thus far seventeen of the total eighteen comprising the supervisors' board have confessed, it is said, to the grand jury what they know of bribes. It is alleged the only supervisor who has not confessed in exchange for promise of immunity is George F. Duffey. Indictments charging Vice President Louis Glass of the Pacific States Telephone company with bribery of the nine supervisors in the sum of $5,000 each already have been returned.

Abraham Ruef has been removed from his prison chamber in the fashionable St. Francis hotel to the residence formerly owned and occupied by Mayor Schmitz.

CONTINUES HIS TESTIMONY.

Lieutenant Lawrason Testifies Regarding Brownsville Affray.

Washington, March 29.—Lieutenant George Carson Lawrason of Company B, Twenty-fifth infantry, was again on the stand Thursday in the Brownsville investigation before the senate committee on military affairs.

At the afternoon session of the court Lawrason told Senator Warner that he had been of the opinion that Fort Brown was attacked by citizens but the next morning when he was shown cartridges picked up by Captain Macklin in the streets of the town he was sure the shooting had been done by soldiers. Later, Senator Foraker asked the witness if he believed now that the shooting was done by the negro soldiers and Lieutenant Lawrason replied:

"I think, sir, that it should have been discovered by this time who did the shooting. There has been no direct evidence to fix it on these men and in view of the testimony here I cannot say that I think the negro troops were guilty."

ENTIRE TOWN THREATENED.

Fire at South Boston, Va., Causes Enormous Property Loss.

Danville, Va., March 29.—A disastrous fire broke out in South Boston, Va., thirty-two miles northeast of here, and, spreading rapidly, destroyed tobacco factories and other buildings, threatened the destruction of the entire town, and entailed a loss estimated variously up to $1,000,000. The large plant of the H. J. Reynolds Tobacco company was among the first buildings destroyed. Appeals for assistance were telegraphed to this city and to Durham, N. C. The firemen of this city left promptly for South Boston. Meantime the conflagration was spreading and a message received here stated that all of the tobacco district and a large section of the business district had been destroyed.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Navigation between Cleveland and Detroit opened auspiciously Thursday. General Kuroki will represent the Japanese army at the Jamestown celebration in April.

A tornado of small proportions struck the outlying portion of Chanute, Kan., damaging half a dozen houses. No one was hurt.

All danger of infection having passed, the quarantine placed upon the room in the White House occupied by Archie Roosevelt during his illness from diphtheria, has been raised.

Howells at Threescore and Ten.

THE nation, indeed the world, has just been celebrating the centenary of Longfellow's birth, and now the public is reminded that one of the greatest of living American men of letters, William Dean Howells, has reached threescore and ten, at which age a man is supposed to be able to retire on his laurels if he so desires. But, though Mr. Howells has won laurels in plenty, he evinces no disposition to cease from winning more, and his literary output shows no particular diminution in quantity or deterioration in quality. Mr. Howells has received many congratulations on coming to a good old age without serious impairment of his mental or physical powers. His place in American literature is secure, and, while it is too early yet to determine his exact rank among his contemporaries, no one competent to judge questions his right to a permanent place in the temple of fame.

Mr. Howells was born on March 1, 1837, and, like so many other men who have made their mark in the world, is a native of Ohio. It was in the little town of Martins Ferry that he first saw the light. He is a graduate of a newspaper office, which is generally regarded as one of the best institutions of learning a young man can attend. Honorary degrees have come to him from Yale and Harvard, Columbia and Oxford. His inherited taste for literature was intensified by the atmosphere which pervaded his father's printing office and editorial room, for the novelist's sire was a country editor, and it has been said that the papers he issued possessed a literary flavor somewhat beyond the appreciation of the pioneer community to which they were addressed. This characteristic and his advanced abolition sentiments made journalism an uncertain proposition for the senior Howells.

The future apostle of realistic fiction in America served his apprenticeship at the case and aided his father in editing the different papers the latter published and in 1856 became Columbus correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette. Three years later, at twenty-two, he was appointed news editor of the Ohio State Journal. He then had a consuming ambition to become a great poet, and some of his verse had been published in the Atlantic Monthly. It was in 1859 that his first volume of poems was published. The next year he appeared as author of a campaign life of Abraham Lincoln, and this was worth writing, not only because it had a great personality as its subject, but also because it brought Howells a consularship at Venice, put him in the way of studying the Italian language and literature and thus had a potential influence upon his subsequent career. He remained at Venice until 1865, and the impressions of his stay there were embodied in "Venetian Life," 1869, and "Italian Journeys," 1867. On his return to the United States he was for a time connected with the New York Tribune and the New York Times and also with the Nation. He served for some years as editor of the Atlantic Monthly and for a half dozen years conducted the critical department of Harper's Monthly called "The Editor's Study." He has also been editor of the Cosmopolitan Magazine. His published works—almost equal in number the years of his life.

When Columbia university gave Mr. Howells the degree of doctor of letters Professor Harry Thurston Peck in presenting it said:

It would be superfluous in me to enumerate in this presence his many titles to our admiration, whether as student and expositor of Italian poetry, as essayist or as critic. When we speak his name we think first of all of what he has achieved in literature through the medium of fiction. It is only in a narrow sense that we call it fiction. In a broader and more veracious sense that fiction is as true as truth itself. Through it he has become, as it were, the interpreter of his own countrymen to themselves. And he has been something more than this, for he has gone down beneath those purely superficial differences and peculiarities which constitute the types that are called national and has searched of the soul of that humanity which is universal.

Below are a few random quotations from Mr. Howells' works which may be cited as "Howellsisms."

Marriage is a perpetual pardon, concession, surrender. It's an everlasting giving up; that's the divine thing about it.

He was not one of those men who rush like air, into every empty throne, and the gift of reticence, and the lady who had planned the vacuum beheld his self control with admiration.

There is nothing has really so strong a digestion as love, and that is very lucky, seeing what manifold experiences love has to swallow and assimilate.

EVELYN THAW'S MOTHER.

Mrs. Charles J. Holman and Her Attitude Toward Her Daughter.

There has been much discussion during the Thaw trial over the conduct of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's mother, Mrs. Charles J. Holman, in allowing her daughter to come in such close contact with the dangers of New York's "Great White Way" and in taking money from both Stanford White and Harry K. Thaw. The testimony in the case indicates that she shared in the funds supplied Evelyn by White and that some of the latter's checks were made out directly to Mrs. Holman's order. Evelyn Thaw on the stand always sought in her testimony to exculpate her mother from blame for taking money from White and frequently asserted that Mrs. Holman was not aware that there was anything wrong in her daughter's relations with the architect.

It has been declared that Mrs. Holman aided the prosecution in the now famous trial on account of bitterness against Thaw and supplied District Attorney Jerome with facts about her daughter to be used in discrediting the latter's testimony. Mrs. Holman herself has kept out of the public eye as much as possible during the trial and has refused to be interviewed. She was first married to Winfield Scott Nesbit, a Pittsburg lawyer. After his death the family were in straitened circumstances, and it was in this way that Mrs. Nesbit, as she then was, came to allow Evelyn to pose for photographers and later for artists. She kept a lodging house in Pittsburg at one time. According to Evelyn's testimony, there were many times in Mrs. Holman's career when she did not know where the next meal was to come from. Statements emanating from Evelyn's mother since the Thaw case came into prominence have been given out by her present husband, Charles J. Holman. He recently denied that his wife had given Mr. Jerome a statement with which to embarrass Evelyn on the witness stand.

Butte, Mont., March 28.—Having adjusted all differences with the labor unions the newspapers of Butte and Anaconda will resume publication at once. Three-year contracts have been signed by the committee of Typographical union, the pressmen, stereotypes and material unions.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

THE STOMACH.

My but peoples' stomachs do cause a lot of trouble. I offered to wager some doctors in St. Paul, Minn., that one half of all sickness is caused by the stomach. After I assured them that my medicine did nothing but put the stomach in shape and they had spent a day listening to what people who called on me had to say, they had to agree with me. They heard people come in and tell me that for years they had been near the grave with Bright's disease, or lung trouble, or kidney complaint and all manner of diseases and that the New Discovery had cured them. Of course these people were mistaken. It was nothing but their stomachs. As a matter of fact when the stomach gives out most everything else is thrown out of order too.

L. T. COOPER.

When a person feels tired and dull and despondent, is losing flesh and doesn't sleep well, has a poor memory, a bad taste in the mouth, a coated tongue, and other troubles he's liable to believe a lot of things are the matter with him. Nine chances to one it's his stomach. I've seen Cooper's New Discovery bring back health to too many people in just this shape to believe anything else. Here's a letter about it:

"I suffered for a long time without knowing just what was the matter with me. I seldom felt like eating. I lost greatly in weight. My digestion was extremely poor and when I did eat I invariably suffered afterward. I was constipated and frequently suffered from nerve racking, violent headaches. When I heard of what the Cooper remedies were doing for others I resolved to try them."

"Relief came with the first bottle. My appetite and digestion improved rapidly. I am no longer constipated nor do I have those dreadful headaches. I sleep well and am gaining flesh." C. H. Powell, 13 Harrison Addition, Duluth, Minn.

We are selling immense quantities of these medicines and our customers express great satisfaction.

AIR TROUBLES IN TWO COURTS

Mary Rolph Sues Edwin Rolph For Divorce, Claims Drunkenness and Cruelty

NOW HE LANGUISES IN JAIL

She Locked Him Out of the House Last Night and He Broke in—Had Him Jailed

The marital seas have been stormy for Mary Rolph and Edwin Rolph, her husband, of 703 Northeast Washington avenue. She recently sued him for divorce, the charge being, it is said, drunkenness and cruel and inhuman treatment. Yesterday her attorney A. T. Larson, secured an order directing him to pay $5 a week temporary alimony and $35 attorney's fees. The order was served on him last night and it is said that when he went home he found the house locked. He broke into a window, and it is said made an assault on his wife. At any rate Officer Hurley was summoned about 11 o'clock last night and brought him over and lodged him in jail. Mrs. Rolph was on hand in municipal court this morning, to tell her tale, but as the county attorney was absent the case was continued until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

JOHN COATES LIQUOR CO.,
Imperial Block, - Brainerd, Minn.

Letter to Mr. Charles M. Patek, Brainerd, Minn.

Dear Sir: You are the agent for Devoe lead-and-zinc for your town and country.

The whole doctrine of it turns on these three points:

- (1) It is all paint and true paint;
- (2) It is the strongest paint;
- (3) It is full measure.

Because it is all paint, true paint, proportioned for strength and full measure,

- (1) It takes least for a job;
- (2) Looks best all the time;
- (3) Lasts longest;
- (4) Gathers the trade, and holds customers.

There is no such argument for any other paint; there is no other such paint; there is nothing but talk for any other paint. Devoe is the paint, if you want the facts on your side.

The country is full of experiences; we bring these experiences to bear on your trade.

Yours truly

JESSE SMITH PASSED AWAY

Well Known Northern Pacific Railroad Employee Died at the Sanitarium Yesterday

FUNERAL TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Deceased Was Sixty Years of Age and had Been Resident of Brainerd 15 Years

Jesse Smith, for many years a timber and tie inspector for the Northern Pacific railroad company, and well known to most Brainerd people, died at the sanitarium yesterday. Mr. Smith underwent a critical surgical operation about three weeks ago and seemed to be getting along nicely until about a week ago when complications set in. His advancing age was against him and he was unable to recover. The funeral will be held at the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Charles Fox Davis officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen cemetery.

Jesse Smith was born at or near Ottawa, Canada, and was 60 years of age at the time of his death. When about 28 years of age he was united in marriage at Quion, Canada, to Miss Charlotte Fenn, who survives him. Mr. Smith was for many years in charge of the works of the Upper Ottawa Boom company, having entire management of their works and men on the Ottawa river. Fifteen years ago the family came to Brainerd and he entered the employ of the timber department of the Northern Pacific railroad and remained with them until his death.

Besides his widow, who is a sister of Mrs. W. D. McKay, of this city, and who resides with the three younger children on a farm three miles south of the city, there are four daughters and one son. They are Mrs. Maggie Hagadorn, of Tacoma, Wash., Mrs. Ella Wilking, who has been with her children in this city, but who expects to join her husband in Walker this spring, Miss Daisy Smith, Master Jesse Smith, Jr., and Miss Lulu Smith. Mr. Smith was a member of the Free and Accepted Masons, but had never affiliated with any lodge since leaving Brainerd.

St. Francis Catholic Church Entered Wednesday Night and Contents of Poor Box Stolen

St. Francis Catholic church was entered Wednesday night by boys intent upon robbery and the contents of the poor box taken, and a small brass drawer in a table near the altar was carried away.

The church was entered by a window in the basement on the north side and the thieves then came up into the body of the church where they committed their depredations. The police who investigated the affair are satisfied the mischief was committed by boys who were familiar with the inside of the church.

AMUSEMENTS

"Buster Brown"

The attraction for the coming Monday night at the Brainerd opera house is the record making Buster Brown. Of all the musical comedies produced in years none other has been accorded such great patronage as has been the lot of Mr. Outcault's play. Encouraged by the success of the past few seasons, each of which has shown a marked increase over its predecessor, its managers with a view to making Buster Brown the equal of any and superior to many, even of those playing at $2, have spent money most lavishly. The book has been entirely rewritten and it is said to be wittier and more consistent than that previously used. The music with which the comedy is interspersed is of the sort termed catchy. None of last seasons specialties have been retained but in their place others appear of a vastly higher order. The costumes which are new appropriate and tasteful and the scenic equipment more gorgeous than ever, will be used for the first time this season. The cast is exceptionally strong and is headed by Master Helton "the littlest comedian" who, as Buster, is so real that he is well nigh perfection.

LIBRARY BOARD MET

Trustees of the Carnegie Library Met Wednesday Evening and Elected Secretary to Fill Vacancy

The board of trustees of the Carnegie library met Wednesday evening and selected Mrs. C. M. Patek as secretary to fill term of H. T. Skinner, resigned. A book committee consisting of Mesdames Patek, Follett and Early was appointed. This committee expects to order about $400 worth of new books in the immediate future. There were other minor matters of business also attended to at the meeting. The regular annual meeting for the election of officers will take place in July.

IS FOR MORAL BEAUTY

W. R. Heron Writes Urging Beautifying of City by Enforcing the Laws

CONDITIONS ARE UNSANITARY

Cites Tobacco Spitile on Sidewalk and Scores Unsightly Corner Congregations

THE DISPATCH is in receipt of the following communication:

"EDITOR DISPATCH—I am quite amused to glance over the letters in your papers of the 25th and 26th, relative to cleanliness and beauty and a civic league being organized.

"Now I may say this much on these lines, not that I would call myself a 'booster,' but one who is at all times ready to assist in the welfare of our city in all lines, bringing it forward as an ideal city, that I, myself, as a citizen need not blush when that time comes.

"Now I will take exception to my friend the 'booster' and define the beauty of unsightly rubbish dumps, unsanitary conditions, slops, holes, etc., bringing these objectionable phrases to where they of right belong in first consideration, perfecting an ideal community as law abiding citizens, and as a Christianized people make our banner of civic rights.

"First. We can beautify our city by having the laws enforced. Notice Saturday's article telling all saloons when to be closed (Sunday)—saloons wide open, groups of men to be seen frequenting these places.

"Second. Unsightly—Can there be anything more disgusting and unsightly than to see anyone reeling along the streets, the streets not wide enough for him—this on Sunday—Sabbath school children having to get off the sidewalk to get past?

"Third. Rubbish dumps—Where can we see worse rubbish dumps than groups of men lounging on a corner, giving vent to the worst of language, that my pen nor these columns would put in print?

"Fourth. Sanitary Conditions—By way of interrogatories—How loathsome it is to go along the sidewalk and have to step over or pass around, to be free of coming in contact with tobacco spitile, caused by corner congregations? I will go still farther—no one cares for the penalty attached as it is now enforced. Now, I consider this a very essential sanitary condition that could be taken up, as it all tends to show where civic pride can extend to. All these conditions exist, as I have pointed out and I could point out many more if you would allow. I take this up in a moral line in betterment of the condition of humanity and Sunday observance, teaching our growing generation by municipal example that which is clean, pure, upright and undefiled. When this comes about then go ahead—work for this material beauty. I call upon every citizen of this city to join hand in hand and wield this campaign of civic rights and law, it is our duty to push it along, mother, father, brother, citizens—then with pride we are moulding into shape an ideal city.

"Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space, I remain, yours, not only 'booster' but by name.
